Andrew W.K. on Wednesday (July 14) released "Everybody Sins," a rager from his upcoming sixth album, God Is Partying. Accompanying the song is a video that briefly features his fiancée, actress Kat Dennings.

"Everbody Sins" is the third single to be culled from God Is Partying, which will emerge in full Sept. 10 via Napalm Records. Ramping up to the effort's release, W.K. issued the album cuts "I'm in Heaven" and "Babalon" as singles in May and February, respectively. God Is Partying is the party-loving rocker's first full-length release since 2018's You're Not Alone, and it arrives almost exactly 20 years after his debut, I Get Wet.

Andrew W.K. commented, "When we started working on the video for 'Everybody Sins', the director and I were scheming and straining over some of the choreography and camera moves. Now, I do realize some people will say life's too short to scheme and strain like this. And others will say life's too short NOT to scheme and strain. Still, other people will say both these approaches are incorrect. And what do I say? Everything I just said in the video for 'Everybody Sins'."

It was first revealed earlier this year that Dennings, popular among viewers for her appearances in TV shows such as WandaVision and 2 Broke Girls and movies such as Thor: The Dark World, had begun dating the musician. The couple announced their engagement on May 13.
